Richards Ramble:

As we walked into the office this morning, we went past a shop cooking food. Carolyn remarked, "Ooh, that reminds me of the smell of Grapevine (One Event / Awaken)." It is that smell of food cooked in the open air that brought a reminder. Our senses can evoke memories, whether that be a smell, a taste, a sound, an object, or a sensation. Those memories can take us back in time, perhaps to childhood and remind us of pleasure or pain from our past.

In Psalm 77, the psalmist is seeking God in a time of trouble, and in v.6 he says, 'I remembered my songs in the night.' His thoughts have gone back to the songs of praise he sang to the Lord. From there he is reminded of God's faithfulness in the past and knows that, because he is a faithful God, he will be faithful again to his servant.

When we are facing times of trouble or discouragement, it is good to remember God's faithfulness and to sing the songs of worship that affirm his love and goodness to us.

God bless. Richard

Advance Notice: A visit by Springs Dance

Sunday 15th September

It is some time since we last hosted a performance by Springs Dance and we are delighted to be part of the first touring programme for their exciting, new production 'A time to Mourn, a time to Dance'

This is an hour-long double bill performed in the round, offering the audience an opportunity to reflect on grief, human connection and joy and is ultimately a celebration of life.

Sunday 15th September – Beverley Memorial Hall

Doors open 7pm for 7:30pm start
